Jury in Barnes-Roosevelt Case Return Verdict of Not Proven—Are Sent Back

Syracuse, N. Y. May 21—The jury in the Roosevelt-Barnes libel suit returned a verdict of not proven this morning, but asked that the expenses of the trial be divided.

The verdict is a victory for Colonel Roosevelt.

The verdict, not being considered a legal one by the court, the jury was sent back.

SHOOTS GIRL WIFE.

Would-be Murderer And Then Kills Himself.

Schaeffrestown, Pa., May 21.—Enraged by the act of his girl wife, Mary Carpenter Weik, the 20 year old daughter of Reuben Carpenter, proprietor of the Waldeck Hotel, in refusing him a drink of whisky, yesterday morning, Thomas Weik, 24 years old, shot and probably fatally wounded her in the head. Then, believing he had accomplished his plan of killing her, Weik sent a bullet crushing through his brain, dying instantly.

The tragedy occurred in the front yard of the Waldeck Hotel, which is at the foot of the South Mountains, three miles south of this place, and was witnessed by the parents of the young wife and her 5 year old son, Reuben Carpenter Weik, who, in a childish effort to save his mother from his father's murderous design, was drenched in her life blood.

Weik, who last fall completed a three years' enlistment in the United States army, was a cigarmaker, employed at Hopeland, Lancaster county. He was a heavy drinker, and disgusted with his conduct in continuing on a protracted spree, his father-in-law yesterday morning not only refused his request for a drink, but in leaving the hotel cautioned his daughter, Mrs Weik, not to grant Weik's demand.

When she refused him Weik whipped out the gun, and as she fled from the place he followed her, discharging the revolver four times before she fell with a wound in the head, the bullet having entered behind the right ear and passed out through the cheek.

As his mother fell the Weik child sought to shield her with his own little body from further attack at the hands of his father.

The parents of Mrs. Weik were powerless to prevent the tragedy, Mrs. Carpenter having been threatened by Weik when she sought to stop him as he rushed through the house in pursuit of his wife.

Mrs. Weik was but 15 years old at the time of her marriage, and when her husband left her and their baby, more than 3 years ago, and entered the army she returned to her parents' home, where she was joined last fall by Weik.

It is recalled that only last February, in a fit of despondency, Weik had hanged himself to a bedpost, and, finding him in an unconscious condition, his wife saved his life by having her brother cut him down.

Interment was in the Chadwick family plot in Greenwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Chadwick was a descendant of the distinguished Botts family, which for several generations before the civil war played a leading part in the affairs of Virginia. Her grandfather, Benjamin Botts, was one of Aaron Burr's counsel when he was tried for treason.

Miss Jane Botts was the eldest of nine children. She was born in Richmond, Va., on July 24, 1819. Two brothers survive her.

PREPARING FOR ARMED CONFLICT

Austria Interning all Italian Males Between 17 and 60

WAR COUNCIL IN ROME

Francis Josef May be Given 48 Hours in Which to Reply to Victor Emmanuel's Ultimatum.

Venice, May 21—Austria has begun interning all Italian males between the ages of 17 and 60. Fifty thousand Italians in the country around Barbariga, Dignana, and Marzana, in the Trieste region, today were placed aboard trains bound for concentration camps in Carniola and Croatia, according to advices received here. Leading Italians in Pola have been arrested and others terrorized by Austrian mobs.

Rome, May 21—Armed with power to declare war immediately, the Italian cabinet was summoned into session at an unusually early hour today while the nation rested on a volcano of excitement.

Wild rumors that hostilities already had begun, that the Italian and Austrian forces had clashed along the border and that the Italian fleet had sailed with orders to engage the Austrian naval forces, kept Rome feverishly expectant throughout the night.

A report from Naples says the Italian authorities today seized a Greek steamer, carrying a cargo of 2,000 tons of rice and bound for Germany.

It is reported a war council will be held tonight.

Until daybreak a crowd of 200,000 aflame with the war spirit, surged through the streets, bearing aloft the flags of Italy, France, England Russia, Serbia, Montenegro and Japan.

Before night the decision of the government may be known. One report was that it would be an ultimatum fixing a time limit of forty-eight hours in which Austria may give final answer to the Italian demands. Another forecast was that the government would declare war without further recourse to diplomacy. Military circles were expecting an order to begin hostilities within twenty-four hours.

The whereabouts of the Italian fleet in the Adriatic is a deep mystery.

A report telegraphed here from Venice that an Italian torpedo boat stopped the Austrian steamer Cosulich when it tried to leave port last night, was passed by the censor, but is without official confirmation.

The captain of the Cosulich was said to have been placed under arrest and a contraband cargo confiscated. It is known that torpedo boats are guarding the harbors at Venice and Genoa to prevent interned German ships from putting out to sea.

The German ambassador, Prince von Buelow, and the Austrian special envoy, von Macchio, have not yet left Rome it was stated at their embassies early today.

GERMANS JEERED DYING

London, May 21—The crew of the German submarine that sank the liner Falaba on March 28 laughed and jeered at the struggles of the drowning passengers, according to witnesses who testified today when the official inquiry was opened.

John Chisel, one of the survivors, said he was in a lifeboat and distinctly saw the actions of the Germans.

BAILEY REBUKED.

Scene at Trial of Riggs Bank Case in Washington Yesterday.

Washington, May 21.—Argument became contentious and bitter yesterday in the case of the Riggs Bank against the Secretary of the Treasury, the Comptroller of the Currency, and the Treasurer, as former Senator Bailey presented to Justice McCoy the bank's opposition to the motion to dismiss the temporary injunction granted against the Treasury officials.

Senator Bailey was arguing for the admissibility of an affidavit disclaiming relations between the bank and Lewis Johnson & Co., bankrupt stockbrokers. Justice McCoy interrupted to say he had already ruled it would be admitted and that further argument only took time.

"Your Honor has taken more time than I intended to take for what I intended to say," replied Mr. Bailey.

"Your remarks are highly improper," returned the Justice. "Please understand that distinctly. I do not care for any more discussion. Another remark of that kind and some other counsel will argue this case."

Mr. Bailey tossed his paper to the table and turning away, replied:

"If the court feels that way about it, I will withdraw from this case now."

"Do as you please about that," retorted the Judge, "but don't make such a remark again."

Several of the bank's lawyers surrounded Senator Bailey and after some conference he said to the court.

"I feel that I owe to my clients a duty higher than any I owe to myself. Therefore, I will remain and continue the argument."

"I also feel that I owe a duty to your client," replied Judge McCoy, "and that will lead me to dismiss what you have said from my mind."

C. & O. DEFERS DIVIDEND

Uncertainties Growing Out of the War Blamed

New York, May 21—Chesapeake and Ohio directors yesterday decided to defer payment of the 1 per cent dividend due in June. Formal announcement to that effect will be made at the regular meeting June 17.

The action of the board was in line with general expectations and was foreshadowed in the increasing weakness of the stock, which yesterday sold down to 39, its lowest price since 1908.

Similar action was taken last September, when uncertainties growing out of the war made such a step advisable in the opinion of the directors. Last December, however, a dividend of 1 per cent for no specified period was declared.

STEEL NETS GUARD HARBORS.

Spread in British Waters as Traps for Submarines.

New York, May 21.—Steel nets have been spread through the English Channel at the entrance to all the important harbors in England to trap German submarines, according to Captain Claret of the Atlantic Transport liner Minnehaha, just in from London. The nets are made of meshes of half-inch steel links, and are intended to tangle the propellers of the under sea craft. When the propellers are caught there is nothing for the crew to do but try to get out through the torpedo tube and swim. Even then they have small chance for life.

A submarine, according to Captain Claret, was found entangled in one of these nets at the entrance to the Firth of Forth several days before the Minnehaha sailed. All her crew were dead. So also were two others—Scotchmen who had been taken off a trawler to guide the submarine through the danger zone and who had guided it directly into the nets, and accepted martydom for the sake of their country.

Rain and snow fell intermittently for the third day with temperatures below the seasonable average in Colorado, Wyoming, Western Nebraska and Northern New Mexico. Denver, with a temperature of 30 degrees Wednesday night, established a new low record for this date since 1872. Continued cloudiness is reported to have minimized damage to fruits and early crops.

ITALY GIVES HER EXCUSE FOR WAR

Accuses Austria of Trickery and Violation of Treaty

HAD WRONGED SERVIA

Government Gives Detailed Statement of Various Diplomatic Moves Leading Up to Present Crisis.

Rome, May 21—Diplomatic documents which disclose each successive step in the negotiations which resulted in Italy's denunciation of her treaty of alliance with Austria and Germany are contained in the Green Book issued by the Italian Government. This history of diplomatic reterchanges begins with a telegram sent by Foreign Minister Sonnino to the Duke of Avarna, Italian Ambassador at Vienna, on December 9, 1914, instructing him to notify Count von Berchtold, then Austrian Foreign Minister that the Austrian advance in Servia constituted a fact, covered in Article 7 of the Triple Alliance treaty, entitling Italy to compensations. Court von Berchtold replies that his opinion did not agree with this view, but on December 20 intimated that he had begun to change his mind.

Baron Burian who had succeeded Count von Berchtold, tried to evade any definite expression of opinion. The Duke of Avarna, on February 22, telegraphed that Austria evidently was trying to gain in time, but that she undoubtedly was being pressed by Germany.

On March 9, Austria consented to discuss compensations. Foreign Minister Sonnino laid down the cardinal points of the Italian demands, Baron Burian answered that Austria would not accept. Prince von Buelow, the German Ambassador in Rome, on March 20, in the name of Germany guaranteed the execution after the conclusion of peace, of any agreement made by Austria. Signor Sonnino agreed to resume negotiations on the condition that Vienna would make concrete proposals. Seven days later Baron Burian asked Italy to give formal agreement to the following clause; First, the maintenance of benevolent political and economic neutrality throughout the war; second, Austria to have a free hand in the Balkans; third, the renunciation on the part of Italy of any further compensations, and fourth, the maintenance of the existing Italo-Austrian accord concerning Albania. On April 2, Baron Burian added that in exchange for these pledges Austria would give to Italy the districts of Roveredo, Riva and Trentino as well as a few villages.

Signor Sonnino replied he considered these demands contemptible; nevertheless they were permitted to stand.

The rumors of a separate Austro-Russian peace persisting, Rome asked Vienna for a definite answer. In reply Vienna added a small zone in the province of Trent to the Italian compensation.

On April 25, the Duke of Avarna said that the Austrian Government did not believe Italy ever would make war and that consequently Vienna regarded a continuance of the discussion as useless.

On receipt of the report, Signor Sonnino, considering any accord impossible denounced the alliance with Austria-Hungary. He said that last summer Austria-Hungary, without reaching any agreement with Italy and without giving Italy any notice whatever, even disdaining the advice of Italy that moderation be observed, had sent to Servia, on July 23, an ultimatum which was the cause of the present conflagration. Thus Austria Hungary had disturbed the status quo in the Balkans creating a situation which was of advantage to herself alone. Such a course of violence made benevolent neutrality impossible, for the reason that Austria-Hungary was fighting to attain an object diametrically opposed to the vital interests of Italy, her ally.

Neverless, for a period of several months Italy endeavored to bring about a situation favorable to the re-establishment of friendly relations between the two countries, but these negotiations brought no practical results. Consequently the alliance was denounced by the Duke of Avarna on May 4. The Duke on this occasion said Italy was confident of her rights and he affirmed to the Austro-Hungarian Government "that from this moment Italy resumes entire liberty of action, declaring that her treaty with Austria-Hungary is hereby annulled and without effect."

INVASION POSSIBLE

German Menace Admitted in Editorial in London Daily Mail

London, May 21—For the first time a London newspaper today admitted the possibility of an invasion of England by the Germans.

The Daily Mail, commenting editorially on the formation of the new coalition cabinet, observed that the government 'may have to bear the brunt of much darker days than any we have yet faced."

"It is possible that the men whose names will be put before the nation in the next few days may be responsible to the country at a time of actual attempted invasion," said the Mail "We do not believe for one moment that the Germans are keeping their vast fleet of warships and transports rotting in idleness. We believe that when the hour suits them, perhaps in some last moment of desperation, their fleet will strike with the intention of terrifying the people of these islands into peace on their own terms."

EXPECT GERMANY'S REPLY NEXT WEEK

Cabinet Takes up Question of Sending Note to Great Britain

SHARP DIFFERENCES

Many Speculations Concerning Kaiser's Answer—Some Still Express Optimism on Outcome.

Washington, May 21—By the middle of the coming week Administration officials think it likely the German reply to the American note will have reached here, and the intense suspense causd by the present strained situation will either have been relieved or made worse.

The Cabinet is expected to canvass the situation today. The much discussed question of sending a new note to Great Britain is expected to coms up. In high Administration quarters there is sharp difference of opinion whether such a note, which has been partially drafted should be sent at this time.

Unquestionably, there are powerful political influences which are anxious to see this country's action toward Germany balanced over against action toward England. Such influences are at work trying to get a new note sent to England at this time. Nothing has come from the White House thus far, however, to indicate the President has been convinced this would be a wise policy.

The truth is that it is Germany's desire and has been from the first to get the United States to deal with questions directly relating to Germany not on the merits of such questions themselves, but on the basis of what this country can prevail on the allies to do in regard to something else. This is excellent diplomacy for Germany, but it is not viewed with favor by the President and Counselor Lansing, who are handling American diplomatic policies.

All manner of speculation continues over the character of the German reply. Advice from Berlin confirm what was expected from the first that the Kaiser himself will have the last word to say concerning its form.

Unsatisfactory forecasts of the nature of the reply based on the tone of the German press and intimations which have come to officials continue, but it is, nevertheless, strongly hoped by officials that the Kaiser, who has shown his friendliness for America on many occasions, and his evident earnest desire to keep in friendly terms with Washington, will not permt any breakng of relations.

The prevailing view here is that the entrance of Italy into the war, now a seeming certainty, will make the Kaiser unwilling to take a course that would not merely add the United States to the list of Germany's enemies in arms, but might have the psychological effect of causing most of the now neutral nations of Europe to take the plunge resolved once for all to beat Prussian militarism to its knees.

Brilliant Gathering Attend Big Function of Alexandria Lodge Last Night.

One of the largest and most successful dances ever given in Alexandria was the May Ball held held last night under the auspices of Alexandria Lodge of Elks. For several weeks committees had been at work making arrangements for the affair and its success was the result of the careful preparations which had been made.

At 8:30 o'clock the dancers commenced to arrive and by an hour later the ball room was crowded while the rathskeller was filled with those who did not care to dance. A delightful buffet supper was served during the evening. Much of the success of the affair was due to the splendid music furnished by a section of the Marine Band.

Los Angeles, May 21.—With the arrival of H. Each machine will have a 42-foot wide spread and a carrying capacity of 1,000 pounds.

Lieutenant Poorten, who is attached to the Dutch East Indian service, said Holland was developing an army of 40,000 men in her colonial possessions, and planning for the organization of a militia of 450,000 men.

"It is no secret," said the lieutenant, "that officers of our Indian forces have been in this country several months buying shells, cartridges, machine guns, copper and other munitions of war."

Rings Around the Sun Put a Move on Philadelphians.

Philadelphia, May 21.—The appearance of two great rings around the sun, strongly pronounced and somewhat resembling rainbows, about 11 'clock yesterday, startled and interested hundreds of thousands of persons in this city and vicinity.

The rings are known as solar halos, and are due to condensation in the atmosphere consequent upon the low temperatures which produced water drops or ice crystals. The refraction and infraction of the sun's rays through these brought about the occurrence which is exceedingly rare in this latitude.

CAUGHT IN ELEVATOR

Louis Schoellhorn Victim of Fatal Accident at Portner's Brewery This Morning.

Louis Schoellhorn, 21 years old, employed in the fermentation room of the Robert Portner Brewing Company, was instantly killed at 11:30 o'clock this morning when he was caught in a freight elevator in the brewery house on north St. Asaph street.

Just how the accident occurred is not known as young Schoellhorn was alone at the time he was killed. He had been talking with his father, Henry Schoellhorn, a few minutes before the accident and left the main floor of the brew house for one of the platforms at the top of the building to turn on some water that was needed in the cooler. He went up on the freight elevator. In some way he was caught between the car of the elevator and one of the cross bars that support the frame. The cross bar struck him on the back of his neck. His neck was not broken but his death must have been instantaneous.

His body was removed to Wheatley's undertaking estabblishment. It is not thought that it will be necessary to hold an inquest.

Young Schoellhorn lived with his father at 431 north Columbus street.

SPREAD OF THE WAR CLOUD.

The war cloud is now enveloping all the larger countries of Europe, while its shadow is falling upon the smaller kingdoms. The British Isles, France, Belgium, Germany, Austria-Hungary, Russia, Italy and Asia Minor are seething with war and war preparations while the obscuration hangs dismally over Mediterranean, English Channel and the North and Black Seas.

The land of the Caesars is now one of the belligerents, and ere many hours the people of that land, storm-tossed almost since the days of Romulus, will again be battling with its neighbors.

Switzerland, Spain and Portugal are still nominally neutrals during this fearful clash, but it may be a matter of a short time before they, too, will contract the war fever. Denmark, Sweden and Norway are also peaceable spectators, but the attacks upon neutral commerce by the belligerents are likely to cause strained relations, if not war, in the near future.

The part the United tSates is destined to play in this universal carnage is difficult to see at present, although the more hopeful in our country believe the careful hands in charge of American diplomacy will steer the ship of state clear of the breakers.

The desperation of the warring nations, however, is likely to bring on friction, as in their eagerness to inflict damage on each other they will not calmly realize issues which are sure to be precipitated by rashness.

The Mediterranean has now become another war zone. Great Britain holds Gibraltar, the key, and Malta, an important stronghold. British, French, Austrian and Italian men-of-war are ready for battle and the blue waters will doubtless close over thousands before peace shall again prevail in the world.

EVOLUTION OF CIVILIZATION.

Dr. C. Alphonso Smith, of the University of Virginia and Roosevelt professor at the University of Berlin in 1910 and 1911, who is visiting Baltimore, believes that the European war will cause the human race and its so-called civilization to skip forward just 100 years in its evolution. He also believes that this 100-year leap, within a few months will not result altogether in evil.

The greatest good from the war might come from the readjustment of Europe according to races and languages, Dr. Smith said yesterday. He said that such a readjustment would almost instantly begin to produce good results and that Europe would go forward wtih a bound.

"Take Germany and Austria as examples of what bad adjustment of races and languages will do," he explained. "Except in medicine, Austria is almost absolutely barren in all the arts, sciences and industries of modern life. It is considered the weakest of the big powers. Its national energies have been wasted in friction between the many races and languages making the empire.

"Germany was welded into one nation with one language and it has made the mightiest progress of our time in national power, in science and art, commerce and industry. That shows what is to be gained by having one nation to be composed of one people with the same language, aims and ideals."

MURDERER PLEADS "BLANK MEMORY."

John C. Watkins, on trial in Richmond for the murder of his 17 year old sweetheart, Hester Dodson, in her home, on the evening of February 5th last, went on the stand yesterday, and testified in his own behalf. He admitted sending to Bernard Tucker the evening of the shooting for the pistol, and recalled very distinctly putting the weapon in his overcoat pocket when he left to call on Hester. As for the actual shooting and details connected therewith he had no recollection, and, despite repeated questions from the commonwealth's attorney, insisted that his memory was blank of anything bearing on the tragedy.

"Blank memories" it seems, are to be used in defense of men who have deliberately slain their fellow-beings. "Brain storm" and "paranoia," have figured of late in the trial of murderers.

GERMAN DIPLOMAT STABBED

Attacked by Robber Near Legation Mexico City

Washington, May 21—Charge d'affaires Mangnue of the German Legation in Mexico City, was attacked and stabbed by a robber Tuesday, near the legation. He reported the attack to the German Embassy, here today, and said it had no political significance. He was not seriously wounded.

Mexico City again is facing a serious shortage of food, according to advices reaching the State Department from the International Committee there.

Secretary Bryan said representations had been made to the Carranza government at Vera Cruz looking to the shipment of supplies by rail to the capital, and that the situation had been brought to the attention of the American Red Cross.

A summary of reports from Mexico, issued by the State Department, said the capture of Saltillo by the Carranza forces last Sunday had been announced from Eagle Pass. There is no telegraph communication with either Monterey or Saltillo and no train service from Piedras Negras south on account of burned bridges.

HERMAN RIDDER ILL.

Friends Fear Pro-German Editor Must Retire.

New York, May 21.—Fears have been expressed as to the condition of Herman Ridder, editor of the New York Staats Zeitung, the chief pro-German newspaper advocate in the United States. It is known that editor Ridder has not been in his office since last January, and that his affairs have been turned over practically to his subordinates.

Henry Ridder, the editor's brother, says the owner of the Staats Zeitung is suffering from heart trouble, and was not permitted to leave his home except for an occasional ride in the park. Mr. Ridder is past 65, and his friends fear that he may never be seen again in the editorial room of his newspaper.

How Mrs. Harrod Got Rid of Her Stomach Trouble

"I suffered with stomach trouble for years and tried everything I heard of, but the only relief I got was temporary until last spring I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them at our drug store. I got immediate relief from that dreadful heaviness after eating and from pain in the stomach," writes Mrs. Linda Harrod, Fort Wayne, Ind. Obtainable everywhere.

Young man, what do you mean to be?

"Take time—consider. You are the designer; you must select the pattern for your future. A hasty start won't hasten success. Each time you change your mind and shift your occupation you must re-learn and re-earn. Until you elect a definite course you must accept guidance."
